Culture Change Leadership Skills™ Essentials - Virtual
Equip your Supervisors and Managers with the skills they need be Safety Culture Leaders

Supervisors and Managers must learn and practice the specific communication skills needed during face-to-face interactions with employees that create and reinforce a strong, positive Safety Culture.

The most powerful force pushing organizations towards or away from safety excellence is unified Safety Culture leadership that guides frontline employee beliefs and actions about safety. It is critical that Supervisors and Managers accurately reflect the organization's commitment to building and sustaining a positive Safety Culture.

Participants will leave Culture Change Leadership Skills™ Essentials with a better understanding of their individual strengths and weaknesses as Safety Culture Leaders and how to deploy their newly improved communication skills with frontline employees.
